BEHIND.—We beg the indulgence of our patrons for the late appearance of our paper this week. We were called off to Auburn the commencement of the week, and being disappointed in securing the services of a printer, we are thrown behind. We will endeavor to catch up next week, when we hope everything will go on "merry as a marriage bell."

A GOOD MAN GONE.—We regret very much to learn of the death of General James Allen, late editor of the Washoe Times, who died on the 31st ult., of erysipilis caused by running a splinter in one of his hands. Gen. Allen was a kind, virtuous, and agreeable gentleman one who was by his natural kindness of heart and superior intellect had drawn around him a host of warm friends and zealous admirers. He was in his 63rd year when he died. No man in our State has contributed so much to exalt the character of the press of our State, and his loss will be long felt and deeply regretted.

"Merit like his, the fortune of the mind, Beggars all."

IMPROVING.—We notice that Mr. Holmes, (son of Vulcan), who plies his avocation in the upper portion of Main street, has at length made the needed improvement of building a new shop. It was high time, and we are glad to notice a change in the man for the better; since getting on a level with his neighbors, he is quite civilized. He used to remind us of a man always building castles in the air, as he appeared perched up in that old lonesome, crazy-looking shop. Shouldn't be surprised if there were not spirits round there once! They are not there now, and we hope our friend may prosper in his new house, which he will be certain to do if the miners are partial to good work.

DONE FOR THE PRESENT.—The men employed during the past summer at work on the Dutch Flat and Donner Lake wagon road have been paid off and discharged for the season. The road is now completed from this place to the first summit, a distance of thirty-eight miles.—Baker, who has a contract to build about 6 miles of the road is yet engaged; we hear that he expects to finish his contract by the middle of June next. This six miles of the route is considered the most difficult portion of the road to build, it being nearly a continuous mass of granite rock. The Company has recently sent tools, &c., for one hundred workmen beyond King's ranch, and expect to renew operations on the road as early next spring as the weather will permit, and calculate on making a finish of the entire work by the first of July. This road, as far as finished is one of the best in the State, and is destined to be of convenience and advantage not only to the citizens of our own State but to the inhabitants of the country east of the Sierras.

AT WORK.—We are heartily glad to know that Col. Kipp, our present worthy Road Commissioner, has started in to repair the road leading from the steam saw mill to town. We understand he intends putting this portion of the public thoroughfare in complete repair, which will enable the stages and freight teams to make this portion of the trip with ease. We have now no longer any fears as to this part of the public highway, for whatever the Col. starts in to do, he thoroughly completes. If the citizens would take hold now and extend the repairs to the Donner Lake road the whole matter might be done in a short time at but a trifling cost, and the road at that end of the town would be complete.

☞As there has been some talk implying a change of ownership of the material in this office, we think it is proper to say that we were approached in that respect, and stated to the gentleman inquiring, our terms, which he did not see fit to accede to, consequently there was no trade made. We shall, therefore, continue to supply the readers of the ENQUIRER with their hebdomdal literary pabulum as though nothing had happened, assuring them that any little favors conferred upon this office will receive our highest considerations. Yours, truly.

THE FIRST OVER.—We were told on Tuesday last that three teams had made the trip from Virgina city to this place during this week, but we cannot vouch for the correctness of the report. The teams alluded to may have come by way of the Pacific Turnpike road, but we know of no possible manner that they could have made the trip on the other road, which at present is unfinished.

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER.—William H. Keeler, having just returned from the East, has reopened his old store on Main street, where he will be gratified to see the smiling countenances of his old friends and customers. All work in his line done at the shortest notice, and guaranteed to give satisfaction.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On Saturday last, two ox teamsters returning from Carson Valley, over the Amador and Nevada road, were overtaken by two men on horseback who presented cocked pistols and demanded their money. They admonished the teamsters to be lively as they had no time to parley. No chance offering for dodging this summary requisition or of making a successful resistance, the only alternative left was to comply with the modest request of the "knights of the road." One of the teamsters was fortunate enough not to have any money about him, the other was so unfortunate as to have $500 in coin which he handed over to the robbers. One of the scoundrels, after taking the money, remarked to the man whom he had robbed that he seemed to wear a watch, and, as he might need a time-piece, he would take that also. They then wished the teamsters good-day, and quickly skedaddled. This is the first robbery coming to our knowledge, ever having been committed on this road, and travelers would do well to go prepared for any emergency of the kind. Especially should teamsters avoid carrying any considerable amount of money or other valuables over these mountain roads when a safe and much better plan is within their reach—that of transacting business of this character through the banking houses and express companies.—Ledger.

PACIFIC RAILROAD.—We take the following, addressed to the capitalists of Washo, from the Virginia Evening Bulletin. The remarks are to the point and worthy the serious consideration of any people who are the least interested in the completion of an enterprise so fraught with importance as this, and shows that all the rest of creation is astir and alive to matters of interest to them, while we alone are asleep. The fond idea with which our people are consoling themselves of keeping the railroad here—when it comes—they will find a chimera, and it is highly probable that instead of a depot being established at this place they will be compelled to satisfy themselves with a way-station. Better improve the opportunities presented and connect the town with the two wagon roads being constructed over the mountains, for in a few years those who pride themselves upon their ownership of fire-proofs will find that they have no longer "stately buildings" in a "first class" mountain town, unless they manifest a greater degree of public spiritedness than is evinced at present. Freight will not go by wagons when superior facilities are offered by railroad, neither will persons allow the breath to be jolted out of their bodies by traveling in stage coaches when they can be accommodated with an easy seat in a railroad car. The stage owners can take off their stock and move to less improved districts, the teamsters will leave for places that present greater inducements for prices and be no longer compelled to maintain a contest with steam, but how will those who have expended large sums here in real estate, fare? They cannot take their little lots of ground and stone or brick houses and drive them before them. The business prospects of the place will no longer present "flattering inducements for capitalists to invest," those who own property will have it left upon their hands—if it is not sooner burnt—with the cheering reflection that it is owing to their own supineness and negligence that their business is gone, the town deserted, and they left with their wares to the admiring gaze of a few aboriginal drones who had no energy to follow their tribe in the general exodus from the place. We do not mean to be understood as picturing Dutch Flat as it is, for from it, to-day our town, with the proper energy and perseverance manifested by those most interested in its growth and permanency, would soon rank among the first in the list of mountain cities, it can be made the depot of a large and populous district, one that would contribute to its rapid growth and wealth, but in order to do this the citizens will have to fraternize and work willingly for the benefit of all; they will have to sink their animosities and little petty dislikes in the great ocean of the public weal, and work zealously for the whole good, and there is no one insane enough to doubt that every trade and occupation would prosper and flourish as they never did before. The principle drawback of small communities—and especially our own—is, that we have all the grades of society that is requisite for a place of about two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. The consequence is, that there is not a sufficient number of any one class to constitute a respectable size meeting. If these elements could be harmonized for any one object we could accomplish almost anything that would be necessary for the town; otherwise it would be useless to try.

We did not intend, at the commencement of this article, to branch off in the manner we have done, but a good opportunity presented itself, and being solicitous about the welfare of our people, we embraced it. If there any who have a better plan to suggest we are willing to drop ours and work for it. We will now introduce the article referred to in order to show that we must place our hopes on something else than the railroad to make us a thriving town, as the people on the other side will not allow the road to stop near here longer than to get a drink of water. The Bulletin says: "We see that it is stated in California papers that the question whether or not the Pacific Railroad shall reach this Territory in two or five years depends upon the prompt action of capitalists here and in California. The cost of the first fifty miles of the road, it is said, will be in the neighborhood of $3,221,496. Provision has been made for raising this amount, by means furnished by subscriptions of stock by individuals and counties, and by the donation of the State of California. The cost of the section which crosses the mountains is estimatted $8,000,000 (eight millions). The distance from Sacramento to Neil's station, which is just on this side of the line between California and Washoe, and consequently on the eastern declivity of the Sierras, is 140 miles. So that it will be seen that funds have yet to be raised for building the 90 miles of the road lying toward us. To build this portion of the road reliance is placed upon the United States bonds for $48,000 per mile, the public land granted by the Government, the earning of the first fifty miles which will be completed by spring, and such subscriptions and donations from individuals and this State and California as may be obtained. It is further said that funds are now needed and can be made available immediately in preparing the work at this end of the route. It cannot be necessary to point out the immense benefits which the completion of this road will confer on this whole basin country—they are patent to all. Stock in this great improvement cannot fail to be of value as a permanent investment. Here is a mine in which all can take stock, and this stock is as permanent and much more productive than even real estate. It will be the most interesting heir-loom which we can hand down to our children—a continuous, perpetual spring of wealth and competency which will continue to pour out its blessings so long as the continent shall stand. Independent of the intrinsic pecuniary value of such property, will be the consideration that it is part and parcel of the greatest work of the world—and that it was a portion of the original investment which carried forward this great improvement to a successful completion. If we would develop this isolated land of ours with truly magic rapidity, let us take hold of this work and complete it as early as possible. Such a result would advance property here with so sudden a leap that even the most sanguine would be astonished to see their high-wrought expectations far outstripped. The State of Washoe will doubtless do something for this road when we shall have assumed the toga of sovereignty.—Our rich mining companies and wealthy capitalists should do something for it now. Those of you who do not avail yourselves of the present opportunity to invest here, will regret it through life."

CORRESPONDENCE FROM AUBURN.

AUBURN, Nov. 10th, 1863.

MR. EDITOR:—On the 28th of October last a fire broke out in this place consuming about one-forth of the town. This makes the third time that fire has visited our town inside of nine years. Auburn had but started in its descent of the "hill of prosperity" in 1855 when fire came and laid waste the town; in 1859 it was again visited by the devouring element, when all who had not prepared themselves with fire-proofs had their property swept from them. After these severe tribulations, however, "the fairest city of the" foot-hills, again raised its head and was looking like its former self when fire a third time put a stop to its upward progress. The people here are now clinging with a tenactiy with which a drowning man clings to a straw—to the idea that the Pacific Railroad will drag the town from its present sinking condition.—Possibly it may live on a few years, but from "indications" not to be mistaken, Auburn will never be what it has been; there is no outside trade upon which it can rely for support, it being the County Seat is now the main "standby." Should it "in the course of human events" happen that the County Seat be moved from here—which is by no means impossible—the result would be that Auburn would sink into nothingness. The people here seem to be totally indifferent as to the future, and only care for the present. Our town Trustees have never thought it worthy their attention or of sufficient importance to the town to provide any means to protect the town against fire, and the only reason that a single frame building was left standing after the recent fire is owing to a slight change in the wind when the fire was at its highest. The cause which actuates me in giving this extended notice of the town may be found in the neglect of our papers here entirely eschewing the subject, their apparent want of interest on this subject evinced by their reticence in truly astonishing.

On last Wednesday the Court house was crowded by persons to hear the trial of Samuel Carkuff, who murdered his uncle S. D. Carkuff, in Sacramento county, in December, 1862. He had one trial at Sacramento, but the jury failed to agree, and a change of venue was granted him to this county. The trial lasted some three days; W. W. Upton, District Attorney of Sacramento county, and Jo Hamilton, our present able official conducted the prosecution, and Tuttle & Fellows, the defense. The jury after being out about twenty minutes returned a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree." The prisoner seemed perfectly cool during the whole trial, and appeared to be unaffected by the rendition of the verdict.

ONCE A WEEK.

[Communicated.]

WAITING FOR WATER.—Everything is in readiness, claims cleared of timber, tunnels run, and boxes ahead; telegraphs battened, pipes laid, and nothing to do but to screw on the nozzle and go to work; which puts an entirely different face upon the matter. What a drawback to hydraulic mining it is, that a man can't go ahead without water? Suppose some fellow's genius should circumvent the difficulty, wouldn't he make a fortune? Wouldn't an agency be worth trying for; and wouldn't it wish it had rained, then? It is said that the Southern miners have a method of "dry washing," by which they subsist in time of drouth; hadn't we better send a delegation to see about it while we are fat? But what's the reason it can't rain, or snow, or do something; how is a man to get to Reese river in the Spring; what shopkeeper will fit him out if he don't pay a little on the old score this winter? In the same happy Southern diggings, it is said, when the boys wish to go any where they embrace a Chinaman. But our Johns are too poor, they won't pay for hugging. A man would stink himself to death to no purpose. Faugh! The idea smells horribly.

Honesty is the best policy. You bet it is. It must be infernally inconvenient to be cooking flap-jacks and watching the Sheriff out the window, at the same time. Dan't like the pure paste, but am not stuck after the Chinese sauce. Come to think it over, it is not so very heavy on us boys, after all; for we've got plenty to eat, drink and wear; but it is pretty heavy on the shopkeeper. Guess I'll go home and start a fire.

MUGGINS.

A SWEET SCENTED SCHEME.—We have it again on what appears to be reliable authority, that a band of Wall street and Copperhead operators, aided by a set of schemers in San Francisco, have concocted a plan by which they hope to induce Government to take possession of and sell or lease the gold and silver mines on the Pacific coast. This scheme has for its objects political aid for the Copperheads, and great private gain by speculation. They calculate that it will be a two-edged sword; that should they succeed in carrying it through Congress, it will be popular with the people at the East, for the reason that it will be the means of relieving them from taxation, there they can claim it as a Democratic measure; that here it will be exceedingly unpopular, and that they can make the people believe the Administration is responsible for it; so that between the popularity there and the unpopularity here, they may be able to elect a Copperhead President.—S. F. Jour.

That is a "sweet-scented scheme," but the only thing that is at all remarkable is, that the Republicans have the audacity to charge this thing upon the Democrats. The action of the Government in relation to our mines is too recent and the affair of the New Almaden mines too fresh in the minds of the people for them to be humbugged by such trumpery as the above.—The very idea of Democrats "carrying it thro' Congress" is beyond the reasonable expectation of any Democrat, and could only have originated in the imagination of the Republicans. We may expect, however, that this policy will be carried out by the Administration, as the Republican organs have never charged any thing mounstrous upon the Democracy except when their party was about to commit some diabolical act against the liberties or rights of the people, when they raise the cry to divert attention from themselves.

NEVADA BURNT.—Nevada is again in ashes, says the Nevada Transcript. An alarm of fire was sounded at a quarter to twelve o'clock on Sunday morning. The flames were found to originate in the rear of the Bed Rock Saloon, on the south side of Broad street, about six or seven doors above Pine. Pennsylvania No. 2 were promptly on the ground, but from some unaccountable cause there was little pressure to the water. The other fire companies were out also in time, but the fire spread rapidly. It crossed Broad street in a few minutes and spread in every direction. At 5½ P. M., the whole business portion of the town was in ashes, including the Court House, Engine House, and everything but the fire-proof buildings that withstood the fire. The loss is terrible, footing up $500,000. Many have lost all they had.—Luckily but few families have been unhoused, the residences being mostly built outside on the hills. All the hotels and restaurants in the city are destroyed, and all the churches except the Baptist. The plank streets are generally ruined. Fifteen thousand dollars would not make them good. The Court House is burnt, but the records in all the county offices and all funds are safe. The Court House might have been easily saved, if but two sections of hose could have been obtained, but they were not to be had. Many of the buildings saved owe their existence to the exertions of individuals. The flames were also prevented from spreading to the residences on the hills by hard work.

A CURIOUS THEORY ABOUT THE DURATION OF THE WAR.—The Rev. John Gilbert, of Clay county, Kentucky, writes to a friend in Frankfort, giving a curious theory with regard to the duration of the present war. In his letter he says:

During the Revolutionary War corn-blades had seven points to them, that is, the blade grew in such a manner as to have seven distinct points or ends corresponding with the sharp points of the blade. These seven points indicated the duration of the Revolutionary War. Now there are but three separate and distinct points to many of the blades, and this indicates, very clearly, to his mind, that the duration of the present war will be three years—the points of the blades representing years. We do not know what there may be in the sign. Three pointed blades have been found in our city, and we learn that such is the case in Clay county, and other localities where the observations have been made. Our readers may test the theory for themselves. Mr. Gilbert was one hundred years old last March, of fine intelligence, very high character, of fine memory, and, in every respect, perfectly reliable. He is as correct in his recollection and statement of facts, within his knowledge, as any man in the country. Several blades of corn have been shown us, with but three points to each, and we have no doubt that many samples of the kind may be found in every field.

RAIN.—We were favored from above on Wednesday night with a refreshing shower, not sufficient, however, to do a great deal of good farther than laying the dust in the streets and on the road. Small favors thankfully received.

☞We call attention to the advertisement of David Mayer, who having leased the Senate saloon, is now prepared to accommodate all with a pure article. An accommodating barkeeper always in attendance. From Mr. Mayer's well known capability to serve customers in his line, it will be well to give him a call.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE OF REBEL GENERALS.—A writer in Blackwood's Magazine thus describes the personal appearance of the leading Rebel Generals:

General Longstreet is described as an Alabamian—a thick set man, forty-three years of age. He was an infantry Major in the old army, and now commands the First Corps d'Armee. By the soldiers he is invariably spoken of as the best fighter in the whole army. His "war endurance is most extraordinary. He seems to require neither food nor sleep."

General Ewell is a remarkble looking old soldier; bald, with a prominent nose, and rather a haggard, sickly face; having so lately lost his leg above the knee, he is still a complete cripple, and falls off his horse occasionally. Directly he dismounts he has to be put on crutches. He was Stonewall Jackson's coadjutor during his valley campaigns, and proved an efficient successor to that General who was so much indebted to him for many of his victories. He used to be a great swearer—in fact he is said to have been the only person who was unable to restrain that propensity before Jackson; but since his late (rather romantic) marriage, he has (to use the American expression) "joined the church."

General Pendleton, Chief of artillery, was a West Pointer; but in more peaceful times he fills the post of Episcopal clergyman in Lexington, Virginia. Unlike General Polk he unites the military and clerical professions together, and continues to preach whenever he gets a chance. On these occasions he wears a surplice over his uniform.

General Pickett commands one of Longstreet's divisions. He wears his hair in long ringlets, and is altogether rather a desperate looking character. He is the officer who, as Captain Pickett, of the United States Army, figured in the difficulty between the British and United States in the San Juan Island affair, under General Harney, four or five years ago.

General Job Stuart is a good looking, jovial character, exactly like his photograph. He is a good and gallant soldier, though he sometimes incurs ridicule by his harmless affectation and peculiarities. The other day he rode through a Virginia town, his horse covered with garlands of roses. He also departs considerably from the severe simplicity of dress adopted by other Confederate Generals: but no one can deny that he is the "right man in the right place."

SINEWS OF WAR.—Those who pay most money are said to be the greatest supporters of the Goveanment in the present trying times. Of the many leading firms on this coast, HEUSTON, HASTINGS & CO., Wholesale and Retail Clothiers, cor. Montgomery and Sutter sts., stand predominent. The money they pay monthly as manufacturers, would almost support a regiment, so great is the demand for their splendid, well-fitting and enduring goods; their business has quadrupled since they removed to San Francisco.

PARLORS.—Don't keep a solemn parlor into which you go but once a month with your parson or sewing society. Hang around your walls pictures which tell of mercy, hope, courage, faith and charity. Make your living room the largest and most cheerful in the house. Let the place be such that when your boy has gone to distant lands—or even when, perhaps—he clings to a single plank in the lone waters of the wide ocean—the thought of the still homestead may come across the desolation, bringing always light, hope aad love. Have no dungeon about your house, no room you never open, no blinds that are always shut.

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC PAPER.—Mat. Lynch has started a Democratic paper at Downieville, called the Sierra Standard, published semi-weekly. Mr. Lynch is a good writer and is firm in the Democratic faith. The Democrats of California are not all dead yet.

MURDER OF LLOYD MAGRUDER.—On Sunday last, says the Marysville Express of the 4th instant, Hill Beachy, of Lewiston, W. T., arrived in town on the Shasta stage in pursuit of the supposed murderers of Lloyd Magruder, a well known and highly esteemed old resident of Marysville. At the request of Mr. Beachy we refrained from making the matter public in our columns until he would have sufficient time to secure the murderers, but as an account of the murder has found its way into the public prints we will give a statement of the circumstances so far as they have come to our knowledge: About the first of last month Mr. Magruder left Lewiston with a pack train loaded with goods, and went out in the vicinity of Beaver Creek, for the purpose of disposing of his stock. Upon arriving there he was offered $9,000 for his cargo, but concluded to remain a few days and sell out the goods himself. This he did and realized some $12,000 on his sales. In company with two or three friends he set out on his return about the 10th of September. Several days elapsed over the time when he should have arrived at Lewiston, and he was not heard from, with the exception of his having been seen passing a certain point on the road. During this time three men entered the hotel kept by Mr. Beachy, at Lewiston, who were evidently disguised, and purchased tickets on the stage for Portland. Upon their leaving Mr. Beachy remarked that something was wrong as the three men were disguised, and the spokesman endeavored to change his voice from its natural tone. In the course of a day or two several of the mules belonging to Mr. Magruder, together with his saddle, leggings, etc., were found placed in charge of a party in Lewiston, together with a note, requesting the said party to take charge of the animals until they returned. Mr. Beachy then immediately set out for Portland, but reached that city a day too late, as the party had taken the steamer for San Francisco. He then went overland to Yreka, and sent a telegraphic dispatch to San Francisco for the arrest of the parties upon their arrival in that city. He received an answer that they had been arrested and were in jail, awaiting his arrival. Mr. Beachy left this city on Monday morning on his way to the Bay. We learn that the sum of $12,000 was found on the party arrested. Great excitement exists at Lewiston and the people swear vengeance on the guilty parties. Mr. Magruder was a gentleman well known to the people of California. He was an active politician in this State for several years, of the Democratic school, and was highly respected as an honorable and high-minded gentleman. He was County Clerk of this county in 1856–57, and has held various positions of honor and profit. He was afterwards associated with us in the publication of the Express, and we ever found him the very soul of honor. He has been very successful in business in Washington Territory, and bid fair to accumulate a fair fortune. We learn that Governor Stanford granted a warrant, on requisition from the Governor of Washington Territory, on Monday last.—Charles Allen, formerly of Sacramento, is said to have been murdered at the same time with Magruder. The names of the parties suspected are William Johnson, D. Smith, F. Perkins, alias Fenton, and G. Clark.

The names of the murderers are Romain, Benton, Page, and Lowery who were arrested in San Francisco for the above murder. They were up before Judge Reynolds on habeas corpus and were remanded. They were to be taken before the Supreme Court on a similar writ on Saturday last.

THE GOVERNOR ELECT.—There is not a doubt as to the loyalty of our present Governor or the Governor elect, neither is there a doubt as to HEUSTON, HASTINGS & CO., of San Francisco, having the best goods in the country.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!—Don't fail to procure MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the World, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from Teething or from any other cause.

Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None Genuine unless the fac-similie of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by all Medicine Dealers. Principal office, 48 Dey street, New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle. REDINGTON & CO., 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco, Agents for California. aug. 6–6m

SUMMONS.—State of California, County of Placer—before E. B. Boust, Justice of the Peace, Township No. 4. The People of the State of California to C. W. MILLER and JNO. H. BOKE, greeting: You are hereby summoned to appear before me, at my office in Dutch Flat, Township No. 4, county of Placer, on the 12th day of December, A. D. 1863, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to answer unto the complaint of Hugh Gallespie, wherein he sues you for the sum of Two hundred dollars, and eighty-four dollars interest, due on a promissory note drawn by you on the 11th day of August, 1862, for the sum of three hundred dollars, and payable to plaintiff, bearing interest at the rate of three per cent. per month, upon which note there appears a credit of one hundred dollars, dated October 30th, when judgment will be taken against you for said amount together with costs and damages, if you fail to appear and answer.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of said County, Make legal service and due return hereof. Given under my hand this 7th day of September, A. D. 1863.

E. B. BOUST, J. P.,
Township No. 4.

The proper affidavits having been filed in my office by the above named plaintiff, and it appearing to the court that he has a cause of action against the above named defendants, It is ordered that summons be made by publication in the Dutch Flat Enquirer, a newspaper printed in the town of Dutch Flat, Placer county, for the space of three months, at least once a week. MEDICAL.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

LATE PROFESSOR IN THE UNIVERSITY PENNSYLVANIA,

Private Medical and Surgical Establishment.

Devoted exclusively to treatment of private diseases of whatever nature, and all diseases to which (as a sex) females are liable.

No. 615 Commercial street,

OPPOSITE THE MINT, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
CONSULTATION (by letter or otherwise) FREE.

THE NEAR APPROACH OF THIS ESTABlishment to the business portion of the city, and, at the same time, its retirement, renders it easy of access and assures the patient full guarantee of secrecy.

Dr. J. C. Young has been a practical specialist for a period of twenty years, and for twelve years on this coast, during which time his private medical and surgical institute has been in uninterrupted successful operation, discharging cure d annually upwards of five thousand patients. Cure always guaranteed or no pay required.

Long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of diseases of the urinary organs, enables Dr. Young to determine clearly, and at once, the true nature of the complaint submitted to his care, securing the patient against the dangers of delay liable, and which, alas! too often do arise from mistaken judgment; thus treating the disorder from the start with all the advantage a perfect knowledge gives.

Venereal diseases, of every class and nature, cured in the most perfect, speedy, and permanent manner, without the use of mercury in any form.

Syphilis and its adjuncts, Gonorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; all disorders of the Bladder, Kidneys, and Prostrate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion; Impotency; Incipient Consumption, etc.

Persons afflicted with symptoms after having been treated, should consult Dr. Young at once, as no disease is cured unless the patient feels perfectly well. If there is a particle of disease left in the system, it will break out at some future time when least expected, or be handed down to an innocent offspring.—Persons who have been treated with mercury should be very cautious in believing that they are well for it is a scientific fact that the mercury will mingle with the venereal and form a disease a great deal worse than the original. All those who have reason to think, by bad feelings, that they have been treated thus, should consult Dr. Young, and he will examine their cases and tell them at once how they stand.—Consultation Free.

Of all the above enumerated diseases—terrible in their array, and fearful as they are in their results—the one standing preeminent amongst them for severity and destructive effects, is that most terrible of all diseases, seminal weakness, or spermatorrhœa.

Those who have become the victims of solitary vice, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings, and cure them for a moderate compensation.

Dr. J. C. Young would especially address himself to such, giving to each and all assurance of a perfect and permanent cure.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises.

He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, foreboodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lavicious dreams, accompanied by nocturnal emissions, growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases, seminal weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of existence towards a premature and loathsome grave.

The intermediate steps between the commencement of this disease and its culmination in that only rest to the uncured victim—death—may be enumerated, loss of muscular power, insanity, impotency.

To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharges of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of the causes of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim of his evil and an innocent companion in his punishment. He adds to his misery and his disorder, until hope leaves him.

There is no cure except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult, then, at once, a Physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly con

AGRICULTURAL.

TO CONTRIBUTORS: The proprietor of the Enquirer will send a copy of the paper, gratuitously, for one year, to each person becoming an occasional correspondent upon Mining, Agricultural, Horticultural, Floricultural, or Stock Raising pursuits.

SHELTER FOR STOCK.

No farmer can be excused for allowing any beast in his care to be houseless during the winter. The least that can be provided for his stock is a shed, open at the south. While cattle will necessarily consume more food in an open shed than in a tight stable, it is a fact that they are more healthy in the former than in the latter. The reason of this lies in the imperfect ventilation of the stable.

FEEDING CATTLE.

For the same reason given for feeding hogs early, begin to feed at once such cattle as are designed for beef. A moderate quantity of grain in connection with a good pasture, will fatten them rapidly during this and next month.—The great waste of feeding unground corn may be obviated by having one store hog to every head of cattle to run in the pastures with them. Milch cows if well fed, will make more and better butter during this and next month than at any other season. Pumpkins make an excellent addition to their food, and corn meal—even two quarts daily—adds very much to the richness of the milk. Give salt once a week.

TAKING UP BULBS.

A correspondent, says the horticultural editor of the Iowa Homestead, asks for information about bulbs: whether it is absolutely necessary to take up every year tulips, hyacinths, crocus, gladiolus, communis and other hardy bulbs.

If for mere display, that is for private gardens, it is not necessary. For those who raise to sell, it is best, as by so doing they are enabled to have their bulbs in a better state for shipment, besides that they propogate finer individual bulbs by so doing. The usual way for this purpose is to take up as soon in the summer as the foliage dies down; dry the bulbs somewhat and then preserve them in bags, or something similar, until the fall, which is the time for planting. The largest are usually selected for sale, while the small are transplanted for next year's crop. Much larger bulbs will be got this way than to let them occupy the same place without removing.

For private gardens they may be left for two or three years without removal, and will generally be more satisfactory after than the first year, because the bulbs will have multiplied, and each bunch send up several flowers instead of singly, as will be the case with those the first year. So far as each individual flower is concerned, they will not be so fine, perhaps, but as effect of the whole is of more importance, this is generally overlooked. Except planted a large distance apart, it will be advantageous to replant at least every three years, or they will get too thick and grow up to near the top of the soil.

Those who delight in a fine display of spring bulbs should not spare the manure, which should be quite rotten and well corporated with the soil. A soil approaching a sandy nature is the best, and when sand is lacking naturally, some river or other sand may be added with beneficial results.

GREENING PICKLES.

It is considered very desirable by housekeepers that pickled cucumbers, mangoes, &c., should be of a deep green color. They taste no better, but they look nicer. A way of doing it without the aid of poisons is recommended by Mrs. Haskell's Enclyopedia, which is as follows: When packing the cucumbers in salt, line the barrel, bottom and sides, with grape leaves, and pack between the layers of cucumbers a quantity of the fresh leaves until the barrel is full. When salted through, remove them from the brine, and pour boiling water on the pickles several times. If not the desired color, line a tub in the same manner that the barrel was prepared, and pack the pickles with a large quantity of the leaves. Heat vinegar boiling hot, pour it over the pickles, and cover them tightly. If next morning, they are not sufficiently greened, drain of the vinegar, reheat it, and pour it over them again; repeat the process until of the color desired. When they are sufficiently greened, pour over them hot vinegar; if they taste of the vine leaves, change the vinegar after a week.

TO MAKE CIDER VINEGAR.

Almost every family in the country have the materials for manufacturing pure cider vinegar, if they will only use them. Common dried apples, with a little molasses and brown paper are all you need to make the best kind of cider vinegar. And what is still better, the cider which you extract from the apples, does not detract from the value of the apples for any other purpose.

Soak your apples a few hours—washing and rubbing them occasionally; then take them out of the water and thoroughly strain the latter through a tight woven cloth—put it into a jug, add half a pint of molasses to a gallon of liquor, and a piece of common brown paper, and set in the sun, or by the fire, and in a few days your vinegar will be fit for use. Have two jugs and use out of one while the other is working. No family need be destitute of good vinegar if they will follow the above directions.

TO WARM UP COLD MEAT.

Cut some slices from a cold leg or saddle of mutton; the slices must be of a moderate thickness. Put into an earthenware dish the following mixture:

All the gravy which was left on the dish after the joint was served, and if not sufficient, add a little more; two tablespoonfuls of port wine one dessert spoonful of vinegar, the same quantity of both walnut and mushroom catsup; cayenne and salt to taste; warm these in the oven, but do not let the mixture boil; put in the slices of meat, and serve when they are thoroughly warmed through.

SILVER CAKE.

Half a cup of butter, one and a half cups of white sugar, half a cup of sweet milk, the whites of five eggs, half a teaspoonful of soda, and one teaspoonful cream of tartar.

LETTUCE.

Transplant from the beds into rich light soil, and close enough to be protected by frames when cold weather sets in. The hardy sorts wanted for later use in spring may be put in borders without protection.

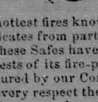
SAFES! SAFES!

F. TILLMAN,

No. 90 BATTERY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.



SOLE Agent for TILTON & McFARLAND'S celebrated Fire Proof and Burglar Safes. This Safe is well known in the market for its unsurpassed fire-proof quality, having withstood in California, as well as in the East, the hottest fires known. We can refer to endless certificates from parties in our mining towns, where these Safes have been subject to the most severe tests of its fire-proof qualities. The Safes are secured by our Combination Lock. This Lock is in every respect the most secure one in use: it requires the key and combination to open the Safe. If the key should be abstracted from the owner, it would be perfectly useless to the possessor without his knowing the combination, or mental key, which the owner carries in his head. To those in want of a reliable Safe we offer the above cheaper than any other in the market.

THIS MAGNIFICENT ESTABLISHMENT, which will in future be entirely under his management and control, and where he will be pleased to see his old friends and the traveling public. He flatters himself that his experience in the business, and his long acquaintance with the people of California, will be a guarantee that no one will leave his house dissatisfied, and he pledges himself to spare no pains or expense in providing every means for the comfort and satisfaction of his guests,

THE AMERICAN EXCHANGE is so well known to the people of California, that it seems almost unnecessary to say anything in praise, either of the building or its location. The Proprietor will only remark that it is inferior to no house in the State in all the requirements of a FIRST CLASS HOTEL, being in a central location and easy of access from all parts of the city. The ROOMS are large and WELL VENTILATED, and furnished with Spring Mattresses. Water has been introduced into all part of the house.

HALL'S SARSAPARILLA,

Yellow Dock and Iodide of Potass.

This celebrated preparation has stood the test of six years with the California public—who are justly considered as a community the most intelligent in the world—during which period we are proud to say it has given more than satisfaction:—it has become the household remedy for Californians particularly, who, from much exposure, bad food, imperfect shelter and irregular habits, suffer more from

RHEUMATISM

Than any community in the world; and we are safe in saying that as a rule, California Rheumatism cannot be cured thoroughly without the use of

HALL'S SARSAPARILLA,

It is the only preparation that will cure Rheumatism, as thousands can testify who have tried the medicines of the best Doctors in the country, without receiving any benefit therefrom. It all cases it gives immediate relief when taken as per directions on the bottle.

FEMALES

in delicate health would do well to try the virtues of this remedy, as it insures a peculiar beneficial influence upon the vascular system not obtained by any other remedy. It quickly removes from the blood and other fluids the impurities of unhealthy secretions, which engenders a long train of diseases, such as Scrofula, Ulcers, Boils, Blotches and Pimples on the face and body, Humors, Pustules, Sores, Tumors, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Scald Head, Swelled Neck, Liver Complaint, Lumbago, Chronic Sore Eyes Gout, Cancer, Enlargement of the Ovaries, and diseases of the Heart, are cured by the renovating action of this truly valuable medicine. It acts like a charm, purifying the blood of all morbid and corrupt matter, and at the same time strengthens and invigorates the whole system.—Salt Rheum will positively yield to the medical powers of this remedy, in conjunction with Hall's Rosemary Cerate, it has cured cases of over twenty years standing, the disease covering nearly the whole surface of the body.

MERCUIAL DISEASES

and all diseases arising from lead, mercury, and arsenic, such as aching pains in the bones, dimness of sight, low fevers, and worst of all, mercurial Rheumatism, are relieved by one bottlee of this remedy. Night sweats, wasting of flesh, spitting of blood, habitual costiveness, and piles—thousands can testify to the efficacy of Hall's Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and Iodide of Potass in the above named diseases. It increases the appetite and the flesh, gives a healthy tone and vigor to the whole system, building up a new constitution. As the constitution is the blood and this remedy thoroughly purifies, cleanses, and purges it of impure matters, and at the same time stimulates into healthy action the whole Visceral System, which is engaged in the manufacture of the blood, hence the health of the whole system will follow, and a

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE

State of California, Oregon, and adjacent Territories:

THE SUBSCRIBER ONE OF YOUR EARLIEST citizens of California, and for the most of his time engaged as a Journalist, and particularly of late in a Journal devoted to the chief resources of the Pacific States, respectfully submits the following plan and proposition for the purpose of bringing hither from England, France and Germany the working classes, mechanics artizans, miners, and metallurgists for the purpose of developing the resources of our thinly populated States and Territotories, thereby reducing labor, the establishing of Factories, the occupation of the millions of acres of arrable land now lying dormant, and to work our mines. The benefit accruing to our Government—to the marine conveyances—the merchant—the manufacturer, the mining conveyances and professional community cannot but be beneficial, provided the facilities are offered to such emigrants, and according to the tenor of our laws regarding such. For these purposes the subscriber desires to seek only the necessary or pecuniary aid to take him across the Pacific and Atlantic, so that he may be enabled to lay before the people of Europe a work which he has compiled from authentic sources comprising the mineral wealth of the Pacific States, including partly Mexico, Lower California, British Columbia, &c., together with a synopsis of the climatology, agriculture, arts and manufactures, with interesting statistics of our imports and exports, and population. Also, the organic acts of our State, the local and general laws governing mining, the Preemption Act, and kindred subjects pertaining to the Pacific States. The author reserving for himself the right of translation of this work (which has cost him three years of his time to collect and compile) in the German and French languages.

He contemplates making the tour to the Atlantic States and Europe in February or March 1863, and will equip himself with the mineral materials, fossil remains, &c., and illustrate them by diagrams and discourses throughout the Atlantic States and Europe.

Such a work which your petitioner has in view cannot be published in this State without extraordinary outlay, nor have we the materials artists, or skill in copperplate or wood engraving. The work will comprise from 400 to 500 pages, to be handsomely illustrated with colored plates, maps, &c., quarto form. The subscriber will add thereto a complete list of all the associations and companies, especially mining companies.

He goes to Europe for the purpose of seeing all the manufacturing places, machines and utensils; also to the leading mining districts and metallurgical establishments, to acquire from the best sources there the best mode of treating our rich minerals, and lay these several important features before our people through the Mining and Scientific Press, and the work he hereby offers. But the most important subject in his mission is the inducements he will offer to the Europeans of our immensely rich mining fields and agricultural lands, together with the great advantages offered by a liberal and protective government for industrious citizens.

The Subscriber, therefore, calls upon the citizens in the Pacific States who have the interests of our new States nearest their heart, to aid him in this grand but laudable undertaking with means. Each subscriber will be furnished with a copy of this work, which is designed to be useful in the counting house, to the professional man and miner. The author desires to state that whatever aid or subscription he may be furnished with by the people of this State he will refund after the publication of the work, or leave the amount to be taken out in books.

Respectfully submitted,

JULIUS SILVERSMITH.

THE PRIDE OF NEW YORK.

1863's speciality.

GRAND MIRROR OF AMERICAN GENIUS.

"Correct with spirit, eloquent with ease,
Intent to reason, or polite to please."

The New York Mercury

FOR THE NEW YEAR.

It is with no fear of War's effect upon their literary fortunes, that the publishers of the NEW YORK MERCURY acknowledge the unwavering loyalty of their TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND SUBSCRIBERS, and announce to them, and to all, that THE NEW YORK MERCURY for this year (1863) will be richer in every luxury of Polite Literature than ever before. It is no upstart speculation, no temporary "sensation," but a first class literary weekly, which has been familiar to the United States for a quarter of a century; and while the wishy-washy mushroom prints of yesterday are cutting down their talent even while they rais their subscription price, THE NEW YORK MERCURY maintains all its great Staff of Romancers, Poets, Humorists, Essayists, Story Tellers, and Editors, and promises to make it still greater for 1863.

It is the one paper for every home. Its forty columns of reading matter per week constitute an unparalleled

CONSERVATORY OF THE ENTERTAINING,

and its Novels, Miscellaneous Tales, Beauties of Verse, Gossip, Feuilletons, Broadsides of Humor, and Polished Editorials, combine to epitomize all the charms of

WIT AND SENTIMENT!

The husband reads it to his wife, the mother to her children, the lover to his sweetheart, the soldier to his comrades, and the village schoolmaster to the circle around the stove. It is familiar to the sight of every man, woman, and child in our country, and has regular subscribers in several countries of Europe. THE NEW YORK MERCURY is also identified with the grandest patriotism of the age, for several members of its brilliant Staff hold high rank in our noble army, and have made themselves as famous with the Sword as with the Pen. The great illustrating artist of the NEW YORK MERCURY, the inimitable DARLEY, gives the paper the highest attributes of Fine Art; and yet this largest literary weekly of the day promises to surpass it off in all these respects during the New Year!

The first NEW YORK MERCURY Novelette for the New Year, to be commenced in the issue of January 3, 1863, is called

VICTORIA;

OR,

THE HEIRESS OF CASTLE CLIFF.

BY COUSIN MAY CARLETON,

AUTHOR OF "GIPSY GOWER," "SYBIL CAMPBELL," "ERMINE," "LA MASQUE," &c., &c.

The productions of this distinguished authoress need no eulogy. Public opinion has long since pronounced them superior to any other novelettes published on this side of the Atlantic; and the true test of their merit is found in the fact that they are eagerly reproduced after their publication in the MERCURY, by the English press. We may add that the new tale, "Victoria," is fully equal in interest and depth of plot to either of those which have secured so large a share of public approval, and we can earnestly recommend it to all story-readers.

THE NEW YORK MERCURY is sold by all newsmen and periodical dealers in America. To subscribers, it is regularly mailed every Saturday morning for $2 a year; three copies for $5; six copies for $9; eight copies for $12, with an extra copy, free, to the getter up of the club. Six months' subscriptions received. Always write plainly the name of your Post Office, County and State. We take the notes for all solvent banks at par. Payment must invariably be made in advance.

☞ Specimen Copies sent free to all applicants. Address all letters and remittances, post paid, to
